DETAILED ACTION

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4-10, 12 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Inui et al (JP 2002-4985 A). A computer translation of the detailed description is included herewith. With reference to the translation, a starter is used after an unsuccessful starter-free start attempt as disclosed at paragraph [0033].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3747

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Inui et al (JP 2002-4985 A) in view of Riksen et al (US 6,286,470 B1). Inui et al discloses the claimed invention as stated above except for determining starting based on oil temperature. Riksen et al teaches that it is known to determine starting based on oil temperature in an engine start control system (column 2, lines 29-39). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the engine start control of Inui et al so as to determine starting based on oil temperature, as taught by Riksen et al, in order to improve starting performance.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Inui et al (JP 2002-4985 A) in view of Zeigner et al (US 4,286,683). Inui et al discloses the claimed invention as stated above except for operation by an accelerator. Zeigner et al teaches that it is known to control engine starting by operation of an accelerator (column 3, lines 10-15). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the engine start control of Inui et al so as to control engine starting by operation of an accelerator, as taught by Zeigner et al, in order to provide convenient automatic starting.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13 and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
